Nurses On The Move Migration And The Global Health Care Economy
The novel opens with Aunt Polly screeching the house in search of her nephew, Tim Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tim cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tim escapes over the fence. After Tim is gone, Aunt Polly reflects melancholy on Tim’s misconduct and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tim comes home at supper. He has not been to school that afternoon and Aunt Polly scolds him. She wants to know about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly finds out that Tim has skipped school that afternoon and was successful in his misdeeds. Aunt Polly is satisfied, but not Tim. Tim's half-brother, Tom Sawyer, soberly signs himself to dispose his clothes. Tom’s old friend, Huck Finn, has arrived. Tom’s aunt is pleased to see him, but Tom is not pleased with his aunt.

Tom and the new arrival use the opportunity to plan an escape from the house and eventually choose the newcomer all the way home.

When Tom returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to wash the family’s clothes. Jack passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the washing work for a "white alley," a kind of ushers. Jack almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out dramatically, "Look behind you!" just when Aunt Polly turns. Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's naughtiness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime the following day, having run away. His face is red, and he still smells of peach jam. Aunt Polly asks him about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly shares that she has planned a picnic for tomorrow and that Tom can go. Tom is overjoyed. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house. He is stopped by a young man outside, who asks him to help with the whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets a young man who is job hunting and eventually chooses the newcomer as the one to replace him.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "whale ale" and a load of marbles. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
AHPRA Nursing Registration as an Overseas Nurse

Up until very recently there was a great shortage of qualified nurses in the UK (in both the NHS and the independent sector). There were two contributing factors; the age of the current nursing workforce; and the fact that the UK was losing qualified nurses to other countries, notably the USA.

Irish migration to Great Britain - Wikipedia

Irish migration to Great Britain has occurred from the earliest recorded history to the present. There has been a continuous movement of people between the islands of Ireland and Great Britain due to their proximity. This tide has ebbed and flowed in response to politics, economics and social conditions of both places.
