The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper. Every boy in town had been looking forward to him as the boy who had been skipped school that afternoon and went riding. Tom, however, is still a boy, and his collar is still wrung. But last, Tom’s half-brother, Chat, has done the whole town a kindness by getting the new arrival out of the bushes.
